Site information

The Fragrance Creative Centre and Perfumery School campus

- Givaudan's biggest investment for the Fragrance business opens its most modern creative centre and production site in Singapore on 7 October 2015.
- The world renowned Givaudan Perfumery School opens its second and only campus outside France and is the first of its kind in Singapore and Asia Pacific. It will be housed under the creative centre.
- The new site employs more than 170 people from varied and diverse cultures. The local campus of the prestigious Perfumery School will have an annual intake of two to three Asian students per year.
- The creative centre will pioneer research and technology facilities that will build on the best of Givaudan's capabilities in fragrance technologies and sensory understanding. This infrastructure will serve as an innovation and collaboration centre which will provide fragrance solutions, enabling customers to go to market faster.

Production and warehouse capabilities

- Specialised large batch fragrance production site will deploy state-of-the-art compounding technology with a very high degree of automation, increasing speed and capacity for customers in South East Asia and beyond.
- The site will produce fragrances for personal and homecare products such as shower and hair care products, deodorants, laundry detergents, dishwashing liquids and fabric conditioners.
- The factory capacity is approximately 10,000 tonnes per annum with capacity for future expansion.
- The production site in Singapore primarily, but not exclusively, serves customer orders across South East Asia.

Givaudan in Singapore

- First opened in Singapore in 1992 with a small sales office.
- Expanded to open fragrance production facility in 1995.
- Affluent, influential and logistically connected, Singapore was selected to be the Givaudan fragrance hub of Asia Pacific.
- The new creative centre in Singapore will add to Givaudan's portfolio in Asia Pacific, where the Fragrance Division facilities network includes Shanghai (China), Yokohama (Japan), Jigani (India), Cimanggis (Indonesia), and Singapore.
- Number of Givaudan employees in Singapore: over 550.
